B. T. Fowler Lifetime Achievement Award

Sponsored by NCFLSE Council

To recognize an outstanding and unique individual who has made a difference in preventing the devastating effects of fire, burn injuries and deaths within the state, the North Carolina Fire & Life Safety Education Council presents the B. T. Fowler Lifetime Achievement Award. This award is in honor of Mr. B. T. Fowler whose dedication to Fire & Life Safety Education has made a measurable impact within the fire service of North Carolina.

Nominee must be a member of an organization/agency that promotes fire & life safety education. This person should have a minimum of 20 years of service. This person should make a difference in fire & life safety education.

Nominations must be submitted with the completed nomination form and a written description that sufficiently justifies the reasons for the nomination. The description should:

- Provide an overview of the nominee's career in fire and life safety education.
- Describe how the nominee has been an outstanding leader in efforts to benefit fire and life safety education.
- Explain how the nominee has made a difference in fire and life safety education in North Carolina.

Entries will be evaluated by the NCFLSE Awards Committee.

The award will be presented during the North Carolina Fire & Life Safety Education Conference.
